JACKSONVILLE : SETTLED INTO DESPAIR AND LONGING FOR FROST.

Fumigating Processes Being Diligently Appiled in Houses Where Deaths Have Occurred-A Woman Reported Dead Denies That She Is So-One of the Misakes Made by a Strange Physician.

JACKSONVILLE, Pla., Sept., 24. -- To-day's record will probably put the total number of vellow-fever cases since the scourgeifirst apseared here above 2,000. At this writing thirty-one new cases have been reported and three deaths. This makes the total number of deaths by yellow fever, since July 6, 215.

The weather still shows no indication of the approach of autumn, and there is no hope of a lessening of sickness before we have had

Dr. D. Echemendia, who has had much experience with yellow fever in Cuba as a surgeon in the Spanish army, is working a force of men all the time, fumigating a dozen houses each day. The vapors of sulphur, chloride of soda, alcohol and other appliances are noxious and stiffing, but are fatal to the deadly microbe, and a stench is preferable to fever and death. After a death by fever the bedding, furniture and every other article in the room of death is removed and burned, and the room is thoroughly fumigated by burning sulphur saturated in alcohol. This process is continued for two hours. The articles burned are paid for out of the relief fund, and amusing complications arise out of this latter are paid for out of the relief fund, and amusing complications arise out of this latter provision.

People put in extraordinary claims for these damages. One woman wanted $100 for a pet parrot which she claimed had been suffocated by the vapors of the fumigators.

The rigid quarantine which has been generally adopted against Jacksonville by other cities and towns is the cause of many heartrending scenes here. To-day a lady who received news that her only child was dying in Charleston was told by the authorities that she could not go to its bedside, as no person from Jacksonville would be permitted to enter Charleston. Her grief was pitiable.

Two of the physicians and five nurses, who came from Northern points and are unacclimated, are very sick with yellow fever, while a number of the nurses from Southern cities, principally colored, having received their pay for one week's work, have neglected their patients since listurday, having gone on a spree with their carnings. Some of them will be punished.

J. J. Dawson's fever, it is claimed, was stopped in fifteen hours by the application of electricity, and his case is exciting a great deal of comment among the physicians, though the idea that he had real yellow fever is scouted.

The influx of strange physicians has given though the idea that he had real years is scouted.

The influx of strange physicians has given rise to curious blunders, which are too ghastly to be laughable. In one house two deaths were reported Friday night. Now Miss Conraeder, one of the dead persons, comes forward and indignantly denies that she is dead. Another young woman did die in the house Friday, but Miss Conraeder is recovering.

Montgomery, Ala., was added to-day to the list of towns which have barred their gates to Floridians.

Dr. Carr, who investigated the alleged yellow-fever cases at Sweetwater, says there is not a microbe in that village, and the Gaines-ville cases are all recovering, with no new Ones.

There were six new cases, in forty-eight hours at McClenny and two deaths. Business is suspended and there is much distress.

Owing to delays of freights, supplies in Jacksonville are getting short, and unless freights are permitted to move pretty soon, short rations must be served.

There is a comparative plentitude of money, thanks to the liberality of the Northern people, the most liberal of whom seem to be the people of New York.

AID FOR JACKSONVILLE. The New York Pund Rising Quickly

Towards $100,000.

THE WORLD'S fund for the relief of the Jacksonville sufferers has reached $3,414.24. Up to this morning the total amount contributed in various wave from New York was reported as $77,142,51, and as the subscriptions have continued to come in all of to-day tions have continued to come in all of to-day it has now gone far past that sum.

Benefits for the sufferers will occur this week at the Casino, Wailack's and the Lyceum Theatre.

The proceeds of a ball game, to be played at the Polo Grounds this afternoon between the nines of the Mutual Life and Equitable Life will go to the sufferers.

W. E. Anderson, of 121 Second avenue, proposes to give 4,000 cysters, to be opened at some east side hall next Monday night, the proceeds to be applied to the same relief fund.

HATTI'S EX-DICTATOR DYING.

Sen. Felicio Salomon, Late President of the Republic, Nearing His End in Paris. A cable dispatch from Paris announces that len. Felicie Salomon, ex-President of Hayti, is dying, and that the last sacrament has been administered to him. Gen. Salomon is seventy-five years of age and stood 6 feet tall in his stockings. He resigned the Presidency of Hayti Aug. 10 and left the Island immediately, coming to New York on the steamer Cienfuegos, of the Ward line. He arrived here Aug. 24 and next day sailed for Paris on La Champagne, of the President Salomon's resignation was the result of one of Havti's peculiar revolutions. In 1886 he was re-elected to a second term of seven years as President of the Republic. His opponents in the election were Boisrund Caval and Gen. Telemaque, Liberal leaders at Port-au-Prince and in the north part of the island reveasition.

sums of money out of the island for his own use, and stories of deeds of violence committed by him were told.

On July 4 last the Chamber of Deputies was burned to the ground, and a week later the buildings of the Departments of War and Interior Affairs, the Court-House, the Government Printing Office and the house of the Bishop were destroyed by fire by the revolutionists.

Gen. Salomon hastily resigned. He was permitted to go to Cuba on a British man-of-war and came thence to New York as stated. Baroness Saloman, the General's wife, is a petite Frenchwoman, hence the going of the party to Paris. They were accompanied by Gen. A. S. Lafontant and wife, Mme. Emelie Pierre and Capt. Mestre, all dark-skinned natives of Hayti, though Capt. Mestre is a citizen of the United States.

President Salomon left Hayti once before, but was called back after a season of turmoil and confusion there.

He much regretted that there were no American naval ships in the harbor of Portau-Prince at the time of the revolution, as their presence, he was sure, would have been his protection.

ONE FATAL BLOW OVER THE HEART.

morning, in which George Fulljames, the well-known pugilist, was killed.

An autopsy showed beyond a doubt that his death was caused by the blow over his heart which he received from his unknown antagonist and which ruptured some of the smaller blood vessels, resulting in hemorrhage of the lungs.

A powerful blow planted over the heart is almost sure to result fatally.

Although several agreets have been made, the Coroner's jury which is investigating the affair falled to get anything out of its witnesses, and the man Barrett, who is said to have been "the unknown" whom Fulljames fought, is still at large.

bave been "the unknown" whom Fulljames fought, is still at large.

The public is considerably stirred up over the affair, and blame the authorities for not showing more activity in pursuing the law-breakers, for they did not even hear of the fight until nearly two days after it had occurred and Fulljames had died.

Fulljames, who had been living for some time past at Winnipeg, was only visiting here, and the fight was an impromptu one. It is said that Fulljames was out of training at the time and in no condition to fight.

It is the cause which is assigned for the wrongdoing which renders the case of peculiar interest. Neither speculation nor gambling of any

The cashier was a girl, Miss Mamie E. Raven, seventeen years of age, who resides at 52 Greenwich avenue with her widowed mother and a younger sister.

For several months Miss Raven had been employed as bookkeeper and cashier for Stern & Schloss, manufacturers of bustles at 32 Howard street.

Four weeks ago she was discharged for irregularities in her accounts when a deficiency of over $200 was discovered.

She was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detective-Sergt, Hanley, of Chief Inspector Byrnes's staff, and yesterday was arraigned in the Tombs Police Court, before Police Justice White, on a charge of forgery in the third degree.

Justice White, on a charge of forgery in the third degree.

The specific charge in the complaint was that on July 28 she paid Max Kopes, a salesman for her employers, his salary of $15 and charged as paid the sum of $30, appropriating the balance to her own use.

Miss Raven is a pretty, pert and well-dressed girl, and when asked to plead laughingly asserted her innocence and claimed the charge in excess of the amount paid to be a mere clerical error.

Joseph Schloss, of the employing firm, who was the complainant, says that the trouble with Miss Raven's books was that there were too many of just such clerical errors.

She signed her statement in a bold, firm and rather masculine hand, and was bailed in $1,000 by James Taylor, a coal dealer, of 402 West Twenty-ninth street.

Miss Raven is said to be a member of a church in Charles street, and bail was procured for her through her friends in the congregation and Sunday-school.

Prior to her connection with Stern & Schloss Miss Raven was employed in a similar capacity with a small dry-goods firm who recommended her. There are said to have been no irregularities in her accounts with her former employers.

Neither Mr. Stern nor Mr. Schloss were at the office when The Evening World reporter called this morning.

The salesman, Max Ropes, said Miss Raven's weakness seemed to be for flowers, candy and gloves. She was always well dressed—better than her small salary would seem to warrant.

DEAD IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS, A Man and Woman Asphyxiated in a Coney

Island Hotel. A man and woman called at the Willow House on Breeze avenue, Coney Island, late last night and engaged a room, They registered as "P. Lynch and wife, of Brooklyn."

When they failed to put in an appearance this morning a messenger was sent to their rooms. She knocked at the door, but received no response.

A slight odor of gas caused some alarm. Isaac Rosenthal, the proprietor, was called, and burst in the door.

A sickening sight met his eyes. Upon the bed close together lay the bodies of the two people dead. The gas was turned on.

Whether it was accidental or intentional is not at present known. Later the couple were identified as Patrick Lynch and Fannie Driscoll.

ON TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER. Butcher Schilling's Ordeni in General Ses stons Court. Frederick Schilling, the butcher who keeps a market at 1214 First avenue, was placed on trial before Judge Gildersleeve in Part III. of the Court of General Sesssions o-day for murder.

March 14 last Schilling returned home at 9 clock in the evening. His market was closed, but he and his wife went into it from their living rooms adjoining to get a piece of meat. A moment later Mrs. Schilling, screamed and neigh-bors, who hurried in, found that she had been cut in the abdomen with a knife. She said that she did it berself. Her husband was under the influence of liquor and told conflicting stories. They had had words and he was arrested.

Henry Oberle, keeper of a beer saloon at 79 South Fifth avenue, was selected as foreman of the jury to try Schilling for his lite.

Mr. Purdy was careful in his examination of jurors to call their attention, by one device or another, to the fact that the Coroner's jury had exonerated Schilling of any blame for the death of his wife, and Mr. Dawson was just as careful to ascertain that each candidate was a married man living happily with his wife.

He called in Patrolman Borke, of the Third Precinct, and together they entered the room where the burg ar was at work.

As soon as the latter saw the officer he made a dash for the door, but was prevented from escaping by Mr. Berger.

A rough-and-tumble fight for supremacy took place, during which the burglar's head was severely cut by the officer's club. He was finally locked up and gave his name as Peter Beycost.

So far the big fair his been an encouraging success to all connected with it. Everything moves briskly, the unprotected men yield up their momey to the arch-highwaymen who demand it, and several very interesting voting contests are progressing.

Now that there is peace with the police, the music goes on merrily every night. There is dancing from 8 o'clock to 11, and the committee has shown excellent judgment in putting Mamie Elliott, a pretty brunetts, in charge of the dancing ticket-office.

Among the new features of the fair this week will be instantaneous photography by electric light, at the Fourth avenue end of the Garden, and a table d'hôte dinner for 25 cents, at the restaurant in charge of Miss Mary Halligan.
